Overview

Derek Spitz is a leading junior who specialises in commercial litigation, competition and international arbitration, as well as disputes arising in the fields of administrative and public law, regularly representing clients from a range of industries including aerospace, banking and finance, oil and gas, mining, pharmaceutical, retail, tech and telecommunications.

With substantial experience in heavy and complex, high value claims, Derek regularly appears as sole counsel, leading counsel or as part of a larger team in proceedings before the CAT, High Court, Court of Appeal and Supreme Court, as well as in arbitrations under UNCTIRAL, LCIA, ICC and AFSA Rules.

Ranked in Chambers UK and the Legal 500 continuously, for several years, in the fields of Commercial Litigation and Competition Law, before being called to the English Bar Derek was a leading junior at the Johannesburg Bar, practising in commercial, competition and public law. He continues to be a member of the Johannesburg Bar with expertise in South African law.

Examples of some of his work include:

Stellantis v Autoliv - appearing on behalf of the Autoliv Defendants in a claim for damages (including spillover losses) arising out of alleged cartel conduct.

Justin Le Patourel -v- (1) BT Group PLC (2) British Telecommunications Plc – appearing on behalf 2.3 million BT customers in the high profile £1bn+ collective proceedings, the first opt-out collective action trial.

Interchange – representing various claimants in numerous proceedings including Sainsbury’s (High Court, Court of Appeal and Supreme Court); Ocado (CAT) and on behalf of Merchants in the multi-billion collective proceedings lawsuits “the Commercial Card Claims” (CAT).
