- Merck KGaA v Merck Sharp & Dohme Corp & ors
Acting for the Defendants in a claim concerning breach of a co-existence agreement and trade mark infringement arising from the use of the name Merck by both parties. Following trial ([2016] ETMR 19), appeal ([2017] EWCA Civ 1834) and retrial of various issues ([2020] EWHC 1273 (Ch)), the Claimant issued a substantial application for a declaration that the Defendants are in breach of the final order, which was heard in December 2023. Judgement on the application given on 12th April 2024: [2024] EWHC 820 (Ch). Appeal listed for hearing March 2025 and Trial of claim for damages listed July 2025.
- Edwards Lifesciences LLC v Boston Scientific Scimed Inc [2018] EWHC 1256 (Pat)
The court determined the terms of a final injunction restraining the use of transcatheter aortic valves which infringed a European patent where, for a small cohort of patients with aortic stenosis, the valve was the only suitable device. The injunction was stayed for 12 months to allow those clinicians who were used to implanting the valve to be re-trained to use another device, and made subject to a permanent exception in respect of those patients for whom only that valve was suitable, although the patentee would be permitted to terminate the exception if, before the patent's expiry, a device became available which was both non-infringing and suitable for all such patients. [2018] EWHC 1256 (Pat) Ch D (Patents Ct) (Arnold J) 24/05/2018
References: LTL 24/5/2018: [2018] FSR 31: [2018] 5 WLUK 459
- Samsung Bioepis UK Ltd & Biogen –v- Abbvie Biotechnology
This was the sequel to Fujifilm Kyowa Kirin Biologics Co. v Abbvie Biotechnology Ltd: instructed on behalf of Abbvie in the Court of Appeal where the scope of declaratory relief available to biosimilar manufacturers seeking to “clear the way” was in issue (specifically in question was whether Arrow declarations are permissible in respect of pending divisional EP applications). [2017] EWCA Civ 1. Judgment of Henry Carr J delivered at first instance on 3 March 2017: [2017] EWHC 395 (Pat). The parts of his judgment relating to whether declaratory relief would serve a juridically ‘useful purpose’ went on appeal to the Court of Appeal in March 2018. Instructed on behalf of Abbvie for the Appeal.
- Fujifilm Kyowa Kirin Biologics Co v Abbvie Biotechnology Ltd [2017] EWCA Civ 1
Instructed on behalf of Abbvie in the Court of Appeal where the scope of declaratory relief available to biosimilar manufacturers seeking to “clear the way” was in issue: specifically in question was whether Arrow declarations are permissible in respect of pending divisional EP applications.
- Starbucks (HK) Ltd v British Sky Broadcasting Group Plc Supreme Court [2015] UKSC 31; [2015] 1 W.L.R. 2628
Acting for the Defendants/Respondents in proceedings concerning their NOW TV service. The claims in passing off and trade mark infringement were dismissed in November 2012 (Arnold J): [2012] EWHC 3074 (Ch); [2013] FSR 29. The Court of Appeal dismissed the appeal: [2013] EWCA Civ 1482. The Supreme Court granted permission to appeal in respect of passing off. The appeal was subsequently dismissed the appeal on the basis that the Claimants did not have protectable goodwill within the jurisdiction.

- Enterprise Holdings Inc v Europcar Group UK Ltd [2015] EWHC 17 (Ch); [2015] E.T.M.R. 16
Acting for the Defendant at the trial of a claim for trade mark infringement and passing off concerning the use of an 'e' device mark. Following a number of contested interim hearings concerning survey evidence, disclosure and amendments ([2014] EWHC 2498 (Ch), Morgan J; [2014] EWHC 3282 (Ch), Mann J; [2014] EWHC 3169 (Ch), Morgan J).
- Acting for Marks and Spencer plc in Interflora Inc v. Marks and Spencer plc in an action for trade mark infringement relating to keyword advertising. An Order for reference to the European Court of Justice was made [2009] RPC 22 and [2010] EWHC 925 (Ch) which resulted in a Judgment of the CJEU in Case C-323/09 Interflora Inc v. Marks and Spencer plc [2012] FSR 3. The trial of the action took place in April 2013 resulting in a number of Judgments: [2013] EWHC 936 (Ch) (admissibility of evidence); [2013] FSR 33 (main judgment on liability); [2013] EWHC 1484 (Ch) (costs); [2014] F.S.R. 2 (additional judgment on liability and injunctions) [2013] EWHC 1683 (Ch), [2014] FSR 3 (injunctions, stay of proceedings). The Court of Appeal delivered judgment on the Appeal in November 2014 [2014] EWCA Civ 1448 (Interflora (CA III)) and subsequently on the Form of Order [2014] EWCA Civ 1448. The Court of Appeal allowed the appeal and ordered a re-trial.
- SAS Institute Inc. v. World Programming Ltd [2013] EWCA Civ 1482
Acting for the Claimant in a claim concerning its SAS analytical software. The Claimant alleged that the Defendant had infringed its copyright and acted in breach of contract in developing its WPS software. The appeal was heard and dismissed by the Court of Appeal in November 2013: [2013] EWCA Civ 1482.
- Oracle America v M-Tech Ltd [2012] UKSC 27; [2012] 1 W.L.R. 2026;
Acting for the Claimant/Appellant in its appeal to the Supreme Court, seeking summary judgment for trade mark infringement in respect of the Defendant's parallel importation of computer hardware. The Supreme Court allowed the Appeal and rejected the Defendant's "Euro-Defences".
