Overview

Tamara Kagan's practice covers the broad spectrum of commercial work in litigation and international arbitration. She has extensive experience, both led and unled, in heavy, complex and high value claims before both the High Court and Court of Appeal. She also has significant experience of international arbitrations under the LCIA, ICC, SIAC and ICDR rules.

Tamara's areas of expertise include commercial litigation, commercial fraud, freezing injunctions, arbitration, banking, energy and natural resources, jurisdiction and choice of law and company law.

Notable recent cases include: acting in SIAC Proceedings with Laurence Rabinowitz KC for the defendant in a US$5.5 billion fraud and breach of warranty claim arising out of the claimant's investment into certain oil assets (one of the world's largest energy arbitrations to date by value); for the claimant Dutch social housing association in Stichting Vestia Groep v BNP Paribas SA in a claim for over €300 million in relation to complex derivative products sold under an ISDA Master Agreement on the basis of allegations of bribery and capacity (one of The Lawyer's Top 20 Cases of 2023); for the Pictet group of defendants in The Public Institution for Social Security v Al Rajaa and others (one of The Lawyer's Top 20 Cases of 2020), successfully challenging jurisdiction, a result upheld by the Court of Appeal; for the second defendant in Bilta (UK) Limited v Natwest Markets plc and Mercuria Energy Europe Trading Limited, successfully obtaining an (exceptional) order for a re-trial from the Court of Appeal following a five-week trial in which claims for dishonest assistance were allowed; acting in ICC Proceedings for the defendant in a multi-billion US dollar claim arising out of the construction of an electric generation plant; and, in High Court Proceedings, obtaining an order for a freezing injunction described by The Wall Street Journal as “among the biggest” ever granted by the English Court.

Historical involvements have included acting for the claimant Dutch social housing association in Stichting Vestia Groep v Deutsche Bank AG in a claim for over €800 million in relation to complex derivative products sold under an ISDA Master Agreement on the basis of allegations of bribery and capacity in the widely publicised Commercial Court (Financial List) trial that took place over 10 weeks in 2019; the well-known Blue v Ashley case, in which Tamara acted for Mike Ashley, successfully defending the very widely publicised claim brought by a consultant investment banker appointed by Sports Direct for a bonus of £14m which he claimed was payable pursuant to an oral agreement said to have been reached with Mr Ashley in a London pub; the high profile Russian oligarch dispute Berezovsky v Abramovich; appearing in month-long LCIA Proceedings in a claim for £350m concerning high profile allegations of fraud against an Indian real estate developer and in related proceedings in the Isle of Man involving a first instance jurisdiction challenge and subsequent appeal.

Tamara also has extensive experience as sole counsel, including appearing for Galasys plc before the Commercial Court in a multi-jurisdictional dispute (Malaysia, Jersey and England) and obtaining (as sole counsel, against leader and junior opposition) an interim injunction concerning the composition of the company’s board pending the resolution of related, expedited proceedings in Jersey; for Flash Entertainment in its challenge to the jurisdiction of the English court before both the High Court and Court of Appeal and in a number of other trials and proceedings concerning freezing relief, summary judgment and the like.

Prior to coming to the Bar, Tamara practiced commercial litigation at Sullivan & Cromwell LLP in New York. Her New York practice focused on complex and multi-jurisdictional disputes and her experience included representing Goldman Sachs in litigation arising out of the Delphi plan of reorganisation and Philips in its long-running contractual and IP disputes with Imation (formerly 3M). Tamara has a keen interest in multi-jurisdictional disputes, particularly those with US law elements to them, and she advises on issues of New York law.

Tamara is a member of the Bars of New York and Ontario (Canada).
